For those seeking protection.

 STELLINI
Italian Style In Ticking Since 1947

Anti virus hygiene protection that makes you feel good and comfortable.

Many Viruses and bacteria are pathogens that are disease-causing microorganisms and can be found anywhere including in the air, in food and the surfaces that you come in contact with. Viruses can cause a wide range of illnesses, both short-term and long-term.

Microorganisms can survive on surfaces, including textiles, for varying periods of time and these can provide perfect conditions for proliferation.

Health and protection are always a priority and knowing that your bed is safe can make a difference.

So how can we be sure?

VIRALCARE finishing has been studied to minimise the risk of transmission, protect us from harmful microorganisms and prevent their survival.

A TESTED PROTECTION

Safer Beds. Healthier Life.

Treating textiles with VIRALCARE can reduce viral load by over 90%. Viralcare has been tested by independent laboratories and verified as being effective against contamination and transmission of viruses and bacteria.

Residual virus infectivity tested according to a modified ISO 20743 method (Sendai virus), ISO 20743:2013, Textiles Determination of antibacterial activity of textile products and ISO 18184:2019 Textile Determination of antiviral activity of textile products.
